Use of oxygen therapies in wound healing - with focus on topical and hyperbaric oxygen treatment

EWMA 2017 Conference in Amsterdam 3 - 5 May

The 27th conference of the European Wound Management Association will be a great event. The scientific programme has extended significantly and will consist of various key sessions, workshops, lectures, full-day streams, and satellite symposia. A new format that will be introduced this year is the focus session - one hour educational sessions that will cover one particular topic in depth.

This year's conference theme is: CHANGE, OPPORTUNITIES AND CHALLENGES - WOUND MANAGEMENT IN CHANGING HEALTHCARE SYSTEMS

National healthcare systems in Europe are continuously changing, reorganising and adapting to respond to changing demographics and budget restrictions. This sets the context in which wound healing and wound carers must navigate to provide the best possible treatment for the individual patient. At the same time, technology is rapidly developing, providing new methods and means of treatment and organisation. The 27th EWMA Conference will have its focus on the changes, opportunities and challenges provided by these continuous processes for wound management across Europe and beyond.

Stay informed by visiting the conference website, www.ewma2017.org for information about the programme. You can also get updates on EWMA's social media platforms.
